Excerpt from Bookkeeping and Accounting, Vol. 2 The subject matter of this text may be divided broadly into two parts. The first twelve chapters deal with the general principles governing the construction and use of reports, accounts and records. In these chapters the accounts and records of a corporation and the accounts of a manufacturing business are given particular attention. Some attention is given to the problem of depreciation and to the technical phases of account keeping as illustrated in special types of ledger records. Chapter XLVIII affords a drill on the subject matter of Chapters XXXVI to XLVII and a thorough review in the application of general accounting principles. The last twenty-four chapters deal primarily with the use of accounting in the control of the relations which the business unit must have with those both external and internal to its organization. The purpose and aim of these chapters is fully set forth in Chapter XLIX on "The Relation of Accounting to Business Management." Chapters L to LV deal with the construction and interpretation of the orthodox financial statements which are used by business executives, stockholders, creditors and governmental agencies in judging the financial condition of a business at a specific time and its progress during a specific period of time. Chapters LVI and LVII explain the construction and interpretation of financial statements other than the Balance Sheet and Statement of Profit and Loss of an industrial or commercial firm. Chapters LVIII to LXV treat of records and reports used in the control and management of the operations of the functional departments of a business. Chapter LXVI deals with accounting for the investments in other companies. Chapters LXVII to LXXII deal with the accounting organization and procedure by which the information discussed in the preceding chapters is collected, organized, classified and presented for executive use. There is much material included in this text which is not ordinarily included in a text on bookkeeping and accounting. take financial matters into your own hands, look no further. Bookkeeping for Dummies will guide you through all the basic skills needed to keep your business efficient and cost-effective – from tracking your transactions and keeping ledgers, to producing balance sheets and satisfying the taxman at year-end. Learn to manage your finances painlessly and clearly, and master the art of bookkeeping! The book will be adapted from the current US edition of Bookkeeping for Dummies. Existing content will be revised to reflect essential UK information.

This primer takes the mystery and intimidation out of business accounting and bookkeeping. It shows a business owner how to understand, use and interpret financial statements; set up or restructure the business' books; use the One-Write System; quickly detect and correct errors; monitor the accounting tasks you delegate to others; understand how outsiders, such as banks, analyze your company; and determine when and how to switch to computerized accounting. Includes dozens of sample financial statements and rule-of-thumb formulas to help non-accountants easily comprehend and use: the balance sheet, the income statement, ratio analysis, budgeting, journals, the general ledger, payroll schedules, depreciation, bank reconciliation, internal controls, and accounting systems. By reviewing the financials of hypothetical small firms, readers will learn how to spot and correct potential problems before they become crises.

Excerpt from 20th Century Bookkeeping and Accounting: A Treatise on the Principles of Accounting and Bookkeeping Practice Applied by Modern Bookkeepers and Accountants The successful business man should know that a profit will result from the transactions in connection with his business before they are completed. To deter mine this he should have such information as will show the detailed operating cost, the profit from trading or other operations, the net profit for each fiscal period, its source, and the increase or decrease over previous periods. A report concerning the failure or suspension of a business, accompanied by the statement that the creditors will not know What percentage Of their claim may be collected until the experts have audited the books, indicates that the manage ment did not have all the facts available in connection with the business. Such a statement is so common in the newspaper announcement of failures that it sug gests a connection between accounting and success. If these conditions are to be improved, it is necessary to teach the correct principles of accounting and the best practice in applying them. The bookkeeping student of today is the bookkeeper or business man Of tomorrow. If he has a knowledge Of the correct principles, as bookkeeper he will apply them, or, as manager, he will see that they are applied by the bookkeeper. The purpose Of this text is to present the correct principles of bookkeeping and accounting, - principles advocated and practiced by modern bookkeepers and accountants. The information upon which it is based was obtained from standard authorities on accounting and from consultations with practicing book keepers and accountants. The text is prepared primarily for the student and not for the practicing book keeper or accountant. The presentation permits the beginner to master first the simple principles of accounting as applied in a small business. When he under stands these, he can then appreciate the more complicated principles of accounting necessary in recording the transactions for a business of extensive operations. The Accounting and Review Services Committee (ARSC) has issued Statement on Standards for Accounting and Review Services No. 21, Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services: Clarification and Recodification. The issuance of SSARS No. 21 represents a major milestone in the ARSC's project to clarify and revise the standards for reviews, compilations, and engagements to prepare financial statements. To assist readers to easily locate information, a detailed table of contents is provided at the beginning of the SSARS. This statement recodifies and supersedes all outstanding SSARSs through No. 20, except SSARS No. 14, Compilation of Pro Forma Financial Information. SSARS No. 21 is effective for reviews, compilations, and engagements to prepare financial statements for periods ending on or after December 15, 2015 but early implementation is permitted. This statement is a standalone SSARS and is not a codification of all clarified SSARSs. This statement has been codified in AICPA Professional Standards, which contains a complete codification of Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services. Practitioners are advised to use the codified version of this SSARS as they prepare to evaluate and update their methodologies, and prepare for changes precipitated by the clarity project.

Bookkeeping Basics No trained bookkeeper on staff? No problem. Many nonprofits don't have a trained bookkeeper on staff. This crucial function goes to whoever has the time and the willingness to do it. Lack of accounting training or background is not only frustrating for the individual, but also potentially risky for the nonprofit. Bookkeeping Basics will enable you to successfully meet the basic bookkeeping requirements of your organization. It gives you the knowledge and skills to track the financial activity of your nonprofit in a way that brings order out of chaos, safeguards the organization's assets, and provides useful information for making sound decisions. Clearly defines what you most need to know In plain language, the book explains concepts and processes you most need to know, including: single- versus double-entry bookkeeping; cash versus accrual basis accounting; posting financial transactions; keeping a "paper trail" of source documents; preparing a trial balance; creating financial statements; establishing internal controls; preparing for your annual audit; and closing out your fiscal year. Step-by-step instructions, clear definitions of terms, and detailed examples help you put concepts into actions. Reproducible forms include an accounts payable register, accounts receivable register, accounts receivable register, general ledger, financial summary form, grant tracking form, internal controls activity flow chart, and an audit preparation checklist. Bottom line: If you're the bookkeeper for your nonprofit--by choice or default--this book is for you!

If you want to learn about bookkeeping without reading a boring textbook, then keep reading... Bookkeeping has been around for hundreds of years. For most people, anything incorporated early in human civilization, such as record keeping, should be easy. Right? Well, the reverse is the case.
